Ecosystem Planning and Restoration, LLC, (EPR) has an open position for a full-time Water Resources Engineer in our Columbia, MD office. EPR specializes in ecosystem restoration and mitigation, environmental studies, permitting, and water quality improvement projects. We are a growing firm devoted to providing exceptional quality to our clients, and an exciting and diverse workplace for our staff. In 2017, EPR was ranked #508 on Inc. 5000's list of the fastest growing companies in the US, and also was rated the #1 Environmental Firm to Work For by Zweig White in 2017 and 3rd in 2018.

Qualified Water Resources Engineer candidates will hold an engineering degree and have at least 5 years direct experience in ecosystem restoration and mitigation projects, stormwater management, watershed characterization and implementation plans, floodplain management, and construction phases services. Experience should include existing condition assessments, development of conceptual and final design components, report writing, water quality pollutant reduction calculations, client interface, and permitting. Preferred candidates will be self-motivated, be able to show detailed experience leading ecosystem restoration tasks and/or projects, have a thorough understanding of hydraulics (1D and 2D) and hydrology, and work well in a team setting. Must be willing to periodically travel. Duties will include working with senior engineers and project managers to assist with restoration/stormwater designs, developing hydrologic and hydraulic models, data collection, and field assessments. Licensure as a Professional Engineer (PE) in Maryland is preferred.

Benefits include health insurance, 401K with company match, employee bonus plan, vacation and sick leave, and continuing education training. Salary commensurate with experience and abilities.
